Presentation of Bev Cola 2/9/1983 – 2 tapes - Copyrighted Marshall Gold Discovery State Historic Park

"I'll tell you a few of the things that I remember. Just kind of the way that we lived. It was a sleepy, corner of the world that we lived in – halfway between the Gold Rush and today"

We lived on Carver Road, it was named Carver Road after we left, at the end, the river side. Loretta Madison lived there at the time of the interview.

Her parents were Chet & Ethel Carver. 2/4/82 Mother passed away, and Father soon after.

Description of the house, typical of the 1920s.

South Fork American River flooding including 1955, froze over once.

Silent movie showings. Playing with baby lion cubs.

Dad worked on several of the buildings in Coloma, and in 1928 he went to Placerville and worked on the high school.

Dances. Celebrations and promotional things in Coloma.

2nd tape – both sides
